Coollest Broadband
Community App
2011

About the Cover:

Chattanooga, Tennessee is the first and only city in America with a one gigabit-per-second connection available to everyone within a 600 mile radius. During 2011 Chattanooga was recognized as one of the world's seven smartest cities by the Intelligent Community Forum (ICF). This competitive international honor recognizes communities around the globe that are excelling in development and broad community use of high-speed Internet access to build and strengthen their economic prosperity, civic infrastructure and successful engagement in the new global economy. The cover depicts this fiber optic network overlaying the city and also includes a photo of the Coolest Broadband App by the ICF.
